Spring 2023

When you make a commitment you build hope, when you keep it you build trust

This year we celebrated 35 years of commitment to each child who has been in our care and the successes that we see each day -- from alumni writing to tell us they have a promotion, to the smile on the face of a new girl who had come traumatised to one of our homes.

All those years ago when Tim decided to help a handful of street children with shelter, food and emergency medical care, it soon became apparent that they were still poor in other areas of their lives, such as mental health and education. And so the work of Future Hope grew organically to meet these needs, from rugby to build trust and confidence, to a school, skills and university for opportunity. We now support over 3000 young lives each year and help many more families.

India is a non-poor country with a lot of poor people. Although the government has brought in many social sector reforms, the last mile is yet to be reached in terms of poverty alleviation — appropriate age-specific learning outcomes, nutritional deficiency, access to quality affordable healthcare, poor living conditions of migratory workers looking for wages in other cities, sanitation in dense areas, clean drinking water, child protection of children forced to live in the streets and slums, addiction and drug abuse, no employment or under-employment.

This is where Future Hope and other non-profits step in and provide the essential services which are so near and yet so far. When it is a question of stabilising a life, the arm that extends the help has to be long. It takes years of holistic care for the two feet to walk at a steady pace and begin to dream of a new life of happiness.

It is a long journey, but we have generous help: from the Government who has come forward to help our children in the Homes under the Mission Vatsalya scheme; our many other partners who provide their expertise in education, environment protection, medical and dental care; university fee waivers; fundraising insights and sports training; our supportive Trustees who always hold the placard for strategic thinking so that we never lose our way; our donors who believe in the cause; our staff and teachers whose hallmark is their commitment.

All of this now puts us in a position where we have the potential to scale up our work and provide long term care and opportunity to many more.

A big holistic Thank You!

Sujata Sen, CEO

Our Vision is a world where every child has hope and opportunity

To me, Future Hope is family, support, love, care, opportunity, education and loads of feelings which cannot be described by words. The feeling started when I entered Future Hope for the first time, the only ray of light which came when I was in a dark room without lights. By Isha

CHILD POVERTY LASTS MORE THAN A LIFETIME

In India, it would take 7 generations for a member of a poor family to achieve average income*

Why is it so hard for a person in poverty to change their future? With education now free in India, why are more than 3 million primary school age children out of school? Why does poverty persist for so many that do attend school?

More than 3 million primary school age children are out of school in India

(UNESCO Institute for Statistics 2021)

Left by her mother and father many years ago, Zainab was out of school until 9 years old

Zainab stays with her grandparents in a tiny room in a slum. Before Future Hope, she had never been to school but was taught a little by her uncle. On joining our school in 2021 in class 1, she has been eager to learn, happy and made great progress.

India accounts for 30% of all children living in extreme poverty (Unicef)

His mother left paralysed by a road accident and his father suffering from a long-term illness, no one in Kushan's family could earn

With no one to provide for him, Kushan joined us in 2022 as a boarder in the little boys' home. We take him to visit his mother in hospital where she has been bedridden for eight months. He is doing well in Class 2 of our school, made friends and loves to play sports where he forgets about his worries.

49% of the population of India live in slums

(UN-HABITAT 2020)

At 7 years old, Benazir sleeps outside on the pavement as there is not enough space

Her extended family lives in one small room, but are very keen for Benazir to get educated and build a better life for herself. She joined our Kindergarten on-line in 2021, but really started to flourish in the normal classroom in 2022. Here she gained confidence and was delighted to narrate rhymes in our assembly.

*World Economic Forum Global Social Mobility Report 2019

The best thing about Future Hope is that everyone is very kind here. We are like a family. Our teachers are like parents to us.

My father is a hero in my life. After my mother's death he took care of me and my five sisters and gave us all the love. He also gave me mother's love too. He is always beside me in all my problems and he inspires me for my studies.

Barsha lives with her family in a tiny makeshift home. Her father earns just about the minimum income of Rs 8,000 and life is often difficult.

"We have a small house, broken in places, and a mezzanine floor inside to climb up on iron brackets. We have only one bed which is used by my two sisters. I sleep in the mezzanine with three of my other sisters. My father sleeps on the floor. We spread a mat and study on the floor. We get water from 6.30 - 9 am from a common tap and have to fill up buckets and bottles at that time to cook and drink. We bathe in the common toilet early in the morning."

When their mother passed away in childbirth, the children had to take on new responsibilities to help their father when he was at work whilst also staying true to the dreams of their parents to get an education. The eldest is married, three are in college and earn where they can by doing henna and make-up jobs or private tuitions. Barsha, Amrita and Anjali are at Future Hope School and help out with the cleaning and cooking at home on top of their studies.

"The most important thing that I have learnt this year is to help each other in difficult situations. By helping someone we also feel good for them. Future Hope is a good example for us; every teacher, staff member, the principal and CEO are blessings for us".

Holistic Approach to Child Poverty Intervention: We break the cycle of deprivation by supporting the whole child long term

Living Standards & Security:

127 children in safe, caring homes

59 (of whom 34 boarders) new children saved from abuse, neglect or poverty this year

Health:

100% children vaccinated

600+ nutritious meals served each day

24/7 access to medical care

Education

360 vulnerable children in school with 98% attendance

183 in skills training

71 studying at University

Greater job security & opportunity

Over 87% of our alumni gain work in the organised sector (fixed terms and wages)

Compared to only 7% of total population (India's Economic Survey).

Intragenerational Upward Mobility

Previously vulnerable children from families living below the poverty line, our alumni become self-reliant members of society and enjoy fulfilling careers

IT specialists, accountants, chefs, fitness trainers, engineers, designers etc.

My mother inspires me. She is not literate, but she wants to educate me. I have learned I need to be serious about life and studies, otherwise my life will become hell. Many of them have discouraged me, but I work hard and show that I am someone and I can do something better than they thought.

Rupashi, Class 10

COMMITTED TO THE BEST CARE

Future Hope is a companion to me. A companion who is walking with me in all my rough and tough times, my happy and sad times. Jahangir Class 9

Providing security, care and a safe space to develop emotionally and physically, whilst also having the freedom to be a child, is at the core of our work. Our 6 homes allow 127 children to sleep safely at night in the care of a houseparent in a family environment. All the children have access to our counsellors, medical team and teachers.

With the help of our counsellors and a focused approach in school, we have been picking up more 'hidden' health problems that the children suffer from and manifest in anxiety, addiction and behaviour problems. We see that addiction is one of the fastest growing problems in the poor communities, made worse by the recent lockdowns and job losses. Many mothers talk to us about the alcohol and drug abuse in their families and neighbourhood. We hear of terrible domestic violence and abuse, we see the damage in their humble abodes and hear desperation in their voices. This sets extremely bad examples for our children who easily fall in with the wrong crowd. Role models and constant pastoral care help our children to deal with these challenges and get an education.

I have to win their trust with my actions and words.

Krishna Das, Houseparent Middle Girls' Home

*At times it is very difficult. Alisha* had been prescribed medicines by the doctor which she just refused to take. Every day she would throw a tantrum when asked to take her medicine. One day I tried giving her the medicine mixed in her food but then I realised that I had to win her trust and convince her to take her medicines voluntarily. Eventually I was successful and she is doing very well.*

The girls always welcome a new child whole-heartedly. They readily share their clothes, shoes and belongings with the new girls. They realise that at one time, when they had come to Future Hope, they had nothing too. Now they show their gratitude by welcoming each new friend.

These girls are like my family. I find joy in their achievements and correct them when they are wrong.

Junior and middle school Parent Teacher Meeting

Working with parents to support their children is essential for success. Covering topics such as absenteeism, medical care, hygiene, sanitation, good food habits and addiction.

One of the most effective health interventions

Immunisation averts 2 to 3 million deaths a year, yet India still has 2.6 million under-vaccinated children. <sup>(WHO)</sup>

At Future Hope we ensure that every child is vaccinated against 12 diseases.

LOVE, TRUST, SAFETY, HEALTH

Ujwal* is eight years old but has the height of a five year old child. He is suffering from a urology condition and has a growth hormone deficiency for which he is undergoing intensive treatment.

Despite many attempts from our medical staff and counsellors to get the parents involved in his treatment, they lack the ability to follow the instructions and medical attention that their son needs. Consequently, the treatment was not yielding the desired results and we agreed with his parents that it would be in the best interest for Ujwal if he stayed in our small boys' Home so that his treatment could be regulated and is looked after by our trained staff.

With his medicines and check-ups, healthy food, a balanced routine of play, exercise and sleep we see a huge change in Ujwal. In eight months he has grown 5 cm, gained weight, has become talkative and takes part in activities. He no longer misses school and is catching up in class with help from our special educators.

30% of children under 5 in India have stunted growth (JME 2020)

Aiming for Healthy Smiles — Future Hope Dental Unit Up and Running at Rowland Road

408	45%	57%
Consultations	Cavities	Needed Treatment

The Covid Pandemic caused a major setback in the dental health of our children. Regular dental care plays a major role in preventing tooth decay and also helps us with screening for other systemic illnesses.

In the past year we have worked with the Indian Dental Association, Kolkata Branch, to set up and equip a dental unit to provide free and regular prophylactic and curative treatment for all our children, and soon also for their families. Volunteer dentists have been coming in twice a week to provide the dental care our children otherwise do not have access to. They also conduct regular hygiene workshops and train our inhouse nurses to assist them.

Future Hope to me is love and care...

in the way we get love and care from our teachers, friends, housecarers and all elders and younger ones too. Teachers who help us gain knowledge, friends who always stay beside me in hard situations and housecarers who stay with us 24 hours as our mother. They take care of us if we have a fever or physical pain. They also make us understand when we make mistakes. And the most loving are our juniors who love me like their own elder sister.

Anita's parents are deaf and dumb and struggled to take care of their children due to their disabilities. Anita was referred to Future Hope and joined our middle girls' home in 2018. Now she is in Senior School and preparing for her board exams. She loves playing rugby and badminton, is a keen artist and always full of verve.

COMMITTED TO EDUCATING & ELEVATING

My teachers are very inspiring and always motivate us in everything.
They always want us to excel in our life. Shifa, Class 12

Education is key for creating a better future for a child and for society. Personally it provides opportunity and growth, and for society it is associated with lower crime, better health and civic involvement. Yet more than 3 million primary school age children are out of school in India (UNESCO 2021).

All our children come from families who face multiple challenges to uplift themselves. It is for these children that we commit to holistic long term support, doing what it takes for them to access their education fully.

NIOS offers qualifications to our students who need more flexibility along the academic route

Urfa was very ill with a debilitating condition and had to drop out of school. We provided her with medical care, mentored her and monitored her recovery. Initially she could not walk or talk, but slowly by building her confidence and with the help of crutches she made it back to school, gradually picking up her life again. It was a huge effort for her and for us; both sides had to believe that an independent future was possible.

Urfa and her mother were ecstatic with the exam results and she is now keen to do vocational training. “It’s beyond my imagination that I have passed my class 12 exams. I now feel confident I can achieve more,” says Urfa with tears in her eyes.

Resource Room — nearly 50% of our primary students needed remedial education post pandemic

“Anas of class 4, needed additional help from our Resource Room when he joined physical classes in April 2022. The learning loss he suffered due to two years of school closures and online learning was very visible; he could not read or write properly. With personalised support and different learning strategies, like the Reading Programme, he now reads and writes better than before and was delighted to join his peers in mainstream classes in August.” Samrin, Head Junior School

Anas lives with his family in a makeshift home beside the railway tracks. He joined us during the pandemic and was already falling behind. However, he is now catching up and our team are supporting him overcome the challenges he faces in coming to school, ensuring that he continues to thrive.

Future Hope is definitely a completely different world for me.

Professor Debdas Ray

I taught for several years in universities. I never experienced such an organisation, where the students are different and the school takes care of everything they require to sustain their growth, their education and above all their dreams.

The school has a Library with books on multiple fields and is very efficiently managed. I have noticed the children's section, where the children are given individual attention by the concerned teachers and regular volunteers. This section is also full of toys (even I got amazed to see such toys and wanted to be a child again).

Science is a growing subject globally and at Future Hope, and some students show real talent. For example Debnath, who has tremendous potential in understanding the principles of both Physics and Chemistry. His understanding of orbital structure of elements is praiseworthy. I can visualise a very bright future for him if he takes up Chemistry Honours at University.

I record my heartfelt gratitude to everyone of this wonderful family to learn what is discipline, dedication and determination to do good for society.

Be The Change You Want To See In The World

Green thinking is an essential part of the education of our children to become responsible citizens and future leaders in their communities and beyond. Through workshops and action they are making us think more about this world!

Hoping for a bumper crop on our way to self-sufficiency, a team of our children plant, tend to and pick vegetables, from tomatoes to cauliflowers, on our land at Rajarhat, all fertilised by compost created from our kitchen waste.

Thanks to a partnership with Garbage Free India the school is joining the battle against single use plastics and reducing energy consumption (down 6%). Our juniors are segregating classroom waste and our senior girls are educated in sustainable menstrual hygiene options, aiming to help reduce the 137,400 tonnes of sanitary towels that go into landfill every year.

Our life is a constant journey
From birth to death
The landscape changes
The people change
Our needs change
But the train keeps moving
Life is the train
Not the station

Bhumi and her peers learnt about biodiversity and climate change and shared their thoughts at the exhibition, Young Minds for a Compassionate World. "As my father died this year we have to stay strong and work hard for our better future." explains Bhumi.

Class 12 visited the Wetlands, the lungs of Kolkata, and were challenged to communicate the issue by creating a game. "We made a spinning game. The arrow stops on a task to perform e.g. #Eco share - share a poster on your social media. Our first exhibition was a great experience. Through our game many people learnt how important it is to recycle and reuse waste" enthused Pinky.

I like to read the stories of people who have started from ground zero and now are at the top. The two people whom I got the most inspiration from are Sundar Pichai and Ratan Tata.

Zeeshan lives in a small room with his family. Both his parents are illiterate but through school Zeeshan has discovered a love of reading and found role models he aspires to and dream big!

COMMITTED TO CREATING OPPORTUNITY

It's like my dream came true. I want people to know that girls can also make their family proud and they should be proud as their girls are doing sports management Pinki

Our children often face judgement and lack of support, but competition in sport has proved to be a great leveller and confidence builder for them, whilst also teaching them trust. With all of our children participating in sport and many playing for teams, we had some exciting moments this year. A win for our U18 Girls rugby team in the Interdistrict Tournament, Bronze for our girls rowing in the State Games, a team of our youngsters taking part in the Tata Steel Kolkata 25K run and over 150 youngsters coming from all over Kolkata for our U13 Tag Rugby Festival.

My inspiration is Amit Sir who taught me how much cricket and other sports are important in our life. He also told me about the Indian Girls' Cricket Team and I want to develop myself in bowling.

Nargish

It was a very exciting yoga competition over 6 days and I learnt a lot in the journey as well as getting the chance to see things I have never experienced before. I tried my best but didn't get through. I will work hard for the next time and will surely give my school a medal.

Alia

I love football. I feel I can learn many life skills like decision making in a crisis, helping those in need and understanding if someone needs support from the game of football. It is a great game to build long lasting friendships.

Future Hope & Khelo Rugby join to harness the power of rugby within the community...

Khelo Rugby delivers an innovative community based youth programme with rugby as a catalyst for 2300 young people in four locations across India. "Khelo Rugby begins with the simple act of taking a rugby ball into an underserved community. With a commitment of regular fun rugby sessions we begin to build the trust of the children and their communities," explains Founder, Paul Walsh.

"Khelo Rugby is a massive part of so many children's lives. It has taught me so much; to be better organised, to manage big groups of children, to speak English. Nobody from my family has ever been to college before, now I am getting ready to complete my final exams, all with the support of Khelo Rugby."

So says Ashfaque who is one of Khelo Rugby's leaders.

Based on the ethos "nothing for us without us" Khelo Rugby is an unstoppable movement for good and is now a part of Future Hope.

PLAY, CREATE, DREAM

A Dream Come True Making His International Rugby Debut

Arpan made his international rugby debut for India in the Asian Rugby Championship in November 2022. A huge achievement for someone who was just 6 years old when he was sold off as a domestic help so he could provide for his alcoholic father. Locals told us about his plight and Arpan's home has been with Future Hope ever since.

"Before coming to Future Hope I was the boy who had no dreams. I was the boy who worked for food and shelter. I had nothing of my own. I felt as if I was trapped in a cage."

As the Captain of several of our junior teams, Arpan always wanted to play for India. With his Sports Management degree course completed and taking up a new role with Khelo Rugby, Arpan finally got the chance to join the India Rugby Camp.

Arpan was named in the squad at number 12, a dream come true, as he joined his friends Sukumar, Akash and Rajdeep in the team. With Future Hope Harlequins making up four of the team, the hundreds of our children who came to watch the games had plenty to cheer about. Role models such as Arpan motivate and inspire all our children.

Our Eco Warriors Educate Over a Thousand Guests With The Return Of Our Annual Mela

Future Hope came alive with colour and energy in December. Creativity flowed as the children created beautiful murals on the walls of Rowland Road, reused material to make quilts and built sets for the stage. On the day, 1000 family members and local supporters joined us to watch dances, acrobatics and skits on the theme of Reuse, Reduce, Recycle.

Educating Is More Than Exams — Back On Stage and Giving Us Food For Thought

It was a delight to see the children take to the stage once again in the interhouse drama this year, tackling the theme of peering into the lives of children in the 22nd Century. Enacted with great humour and imagination, the children questioned whether social media and robots will take over our lives, and will we lose our human relationships? I have learnt we should set our standards high, be confident, and give tough competition. Samira.

Meeting Role Models and Challenging Themselves Inspires Our Children To Be The Best They Can Be

This year the children have been able to give a big Future Hope welcome to many visiting guests and also to take part in competition again.

Fiji rugby international, Sireli Bobo, created huge grins in a PT class whilst Bollywood star and President of Rugby India Rahul Bose inspired at our Khelo Rugby camp. Players from ATK Mohun Bagan put our juniors through their paces on the football pitch. Poets, theatre groups and music producers got the children involved in creating their own works, whilst laughter defined a workshop from a Lego movie animator.

The cricket season saw our boys back in the Mayor's Cup, narrowly missing out on the title. With freedom, cycling is growing and we had a podium finish in the West Bengal Cycling Championships. Our children are always up for trying a new sport and there has been much fun with the introduction of Kho-Kho this year.

COMMITTED TO REALISING POTENTIAL

WHERE WILL HE GO FROM HERE?

Over the years we have seen the importance of higher education on the life outcomes of our alumni. Those with skills training or a degree have a far greater chance of realising their potential and gaining stable work with earnings well above that of their parents. India has the youngest and largest workforce in the world, however, it struggles with significant skills gaps with approximately only 5% of the workforce recognised as formally skilled.

By ensuring that our children have strong foundations in literacy and numeracy so that they can enjoy a full education, by supporting them in making the transition from school to a career and by connecting them to opportunity and role models we put them in a strong position to take advantage of the skills gap in India and thrive.

Unskilled

0% of the parents of our alumni had stable jobs with a contract, 100% were daily wage workers or had no work

Skilled

87% of our alumni have stable jobs with a contract

In one generation our alumni have lifted their family from earning below the minimum wage (Approximately Rs 8,000), with many of them earning more than Rs 25,000 per month in stable careers with great potential.

Those who get an education have higher incomes, have more opportunities in their lives and tend to be healthier.

Seema, Fashion Design

Sukanto's son, daughter & wife, Tim, Sukanto, Konda

Sukanto was one of the very first children for whom Tim started Future Hope in 1987. An orphan on the streets, now 35 years on, a chef with a reputed university, happily married with two well educated children. His daughter is pursuing a psychology degree and his son is taking his class X exams. Konda, also an orphan from the streets, has a good career earning well above the minimum wage in an accountancy job. He too is happily married and has three daughters, all educated in good schools.

I Am Building A Career In The Hospitality Industry

Ankit completed his 3 year Diploma in Hotel Management in June 2022 with top grades and is now working in a five-star hotel in Bangalore.

He joined Future Hope School in 2015 in class 9 after he had lost his father to cancer and his mother died tragically while bathing in the local pond. A friendly, enthusiastic boy, Ankit settled in well. He worked hard to complete his Class12 and also discovered a love of football which helped him stay focussed and gain teamworking skills — that he now finds useful in his new job — and went on to college.

In December Ankit came to Kolkata to meet all of us, carrying boxes of sweets to celebrate his happiness: "I am building a career in the hospitality industry. No looking back for me. I am hardworking, sincere and willing to learn and do any kind of work. I believe every opportunity in life is a learning opportunity."

My dream is to motivate others so they don't suffer the same ways I had to go through, to be a successful person and support my family.

Jhili joined Future Hope aged 6

Jhili came from a village where she lived with her single mother in a small hut. "My mother was the only working member of my family. We did not have basic amenities such as electricity and sanitation facilities. We used a lantern and we had to walk for miles to fetch water from ponds. My mother worked as a cook. My roles were simple, I had to take the cows and hens to the fields".

Jhili did not go to school and her mother was at work all day and illiterate. At Future Hope she excelled in academics and learned to sing and play the guitar "Music clears my head and helps me when no one else does. Most importantly I can express myself through it".

Jhili is now studying Psychology at University, taking every opportunity to learn and grow. "Recently I worked as an intern with Civilian Welfare Foundation (CWF). We were sent to Bolpur Shantiniketan to do surveys on mental health awareness. My responsibilities were collecting data, communicating with the local people, seeing the cultural differences and then submitting my reviews with the team".

"I hope that with my education I can help my community to adapt healthy behaviours, promote good health and wellness. And, I truly hope that mental illness doesn't stay as a stigma."

Creating Opportunity To Realise Potential Through Skills

For our Future Hope George Telegraph Training Institute it has been a year of getting back to normal after the prolonged lockdowns. Our students are back in training, practising their skills hands on, from cutting hair on the Beauty course to creating circuits on the Mobile Phone course.

"I saw for the first time how streetlights are wired and connected. It was really interesting" reported Sudip when 39 of our senior school children spent a day at our Skills Centre in Barrackpore. The current students inspired our school children with the practical work they were doing.

SHARE — CREATING A CASCADE OF CHANGE

Education serves to unite and strengthen our country.

Without education people would not be able to distinguish from right and wrong.

It is the most powerful weapon we can use to change the world. Sudip

People who are educated are the foundation of any great change and every nation. By committing to each child wholly, we are seeing educated alumni who are in stable jobs and who want to work for the betterment of others. From poverty and a fight for survival, they are breaking the cycle of poverty in one generation and are keen to create change or give back.

Nearly 2/3 of Future Hope Alumni give back in their communities or to Future Hope

After my education I want to be a Senior Secondary Teacher. Educating children will ultimately help society to think in a different way. Educating children will lead to educating society as a whole. Education is the key to success.

Sweety, B Ed

The confidence that my family have gained in life through my education is the best and the first ever thing I could provide for them. My education has brought hope in their lives, hope of a better future, a secured lifestyle.

Richa, MA English

I hope that with my education I can help my community to adapt healthy behaviours, promote good health and wellness.

Basant, BSc Microbiology

With education I can support my family financially. I give them a better life. Four members depend on my support after graduation.

Priyanka, Beauty & Aesthetics

For the opportunity I got from Future Hope I will always be grateful. I don't have my own family and am associated with Future Hope since 2006, so I need to stand on my own feet so that I can help my brother fast. When I become a successful entrepreneur, I want to start my own organisation so that I can help more people who are in need.

Feroz, BBA

Feroz joined the little boys' Home after his brother wrote to us:

I, older brother of Feroz, aged about twenty four years, pray to you to take care of my brother. Our mother had passed away when we were very little and our father has fallen very sick. There is no one to look after my little brother who is living near the railway lines. Hence I request Future Hope to look after Feroz by giving him shelter and education. I give full consent to Future Hope for his upbringing.

Together we are changing lives for over 3000 children right now and thousands more over future generations
